The jury in the case was composed of P. W. Dandridge, P. D. Anderson, J. G. Young, W. O. Williams, G. W. Cole, W. L. Phipps and A. A. Giles.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the exponent for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and a calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No gripping is the "key-note" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you'll find quick, cure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take them every night just to keep right. Try them. 15c and 30c.

THIS LITTLE BABY GIRL

Was Benefited by the Good Her Mother Got from Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Pittsburgh, Pa.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before my little girl was born, and the effect it had was wonderful. This will be the first child I have nursed, as I had to nurse my two boys on the bottle. I was very nervous and worried, tired all the time, and after I read about the Vegetable Compound I tried it and kept on with it. I still continue its use and recommend it to my friends. You may publish these facts as a testimonial for your medicine. Lydia E. Pinkham, 169 Plymouth St., Pittsburgh, Pa."

It is remarkable how many cases have been reported similar to this one. Many mothers are left in weakened and run-down condition after the birth of the child and for such mothers the care of the baby is well-nigh impossible. Not only is it hard for the mother, but the child itself will indirectly suffer.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is an excellent tonic for the mother at this time. It is prepared from medicinal vegetable principles, and does not contain any harmful drugs. It can be taken safely by the nursing mother.

Two sleighs came together, and the sleigh ridden by Brown and his rider came into view and a second later saw the two sleighs come together. Lea ran down the hill and was one of the first to reach the scene of the accident. A car came by at the moment and young Brown was placed in the machine and taken up the hill to the office of Dr. C. W. Prichard.

Dr. Prichard was out and Dr. W. L. Jennings was called. The boy died soon after having regained consciousness. He died at 10:30 o'clock.

Lea said that he remarked to A. N. that he could not understand the two boys could not have avoided the collision by proper riding of their sleighs. The boy replied, "You can't guide this sled I've got."

While a number of boys and men saw the accident none knew the name of the boy and he left the scene immediately after the accident.

Two police saw the accident from Main street, Lea and John Parrott, who lives at the corner of Upper and Ridge street.

Ridge street has been popular as a coasting place during the winter months, using both hills and coasting both on the sidewalk and in the middle of the road. At the time of the accident coasters were beginning to assemble for an evening of sleighing and coasting.

Upon the sleigh of the youthful coasters by the accident and in a few minutes all of them had left—most of them for their homes. News of the accident spread quickly for the coast and brought sadness and gloom to more than one wedding party and caused a perceptible thinning in the ranks of coasters.

The fatal accident occurred on young Brown's first run down the hill, and it was his first night of coasting during the present snow.

On previous nights he had staid at home and studied. The accident happened on a night when he was out with his friends and he was not aware of his absence until he was called up over the telephone and apprised of the death of his son. Mr. Brown is employed by C. W. Dodson on Craghead street.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Brown were prostrated with grief on learning of the accident. Beside his parents young Brown is survived by one brother, Elwood, about 12 years of age.

High school friends of the dead youth said last night that Doyle Brown was one of the most popular boys at the High School, was an excellent student and had many admirers.

City Coroner, Dr. J. E. Taylor, made an investigation of the affair last night, questioning eye-witnesses, and he said later that he would not hold an inquest as it was a plain case of an unavoidable accident.

The fatality on Tabernacle hill last night was so far as could be recalled, the first fatal fatality in forty years. The sharp slope down to the Tabernacle has for years been the chief sleighing place for the younger generation following a snow fall for many years and grown men today recalled many times they had spent joyful sleighing there. There have been occasional instances in which sleigh riders at telephone poles or were otherwise injured but this is the first actual death resulting from the winter sport at that place. It was recalled also that from time immemorial there has been a sort of agreement among sleigh riders that they should not use the hill sloping down to the Tabernacle because of the obvious danger a serious consequence in the hollow of the hill. It was recalled that it was the first time that the Glover street slope has been used.

Recognition of sleighing as a recreational sport and the belief that the children should be given opportunity to enjoy themselves led to expressions in several quarters this morning that sleighing should be set aside for sleigh riders and that traffic be kept off them during certain hours, also that in future there should be a definite understanding that the hill descending from Grove street should not be used. Motorists were heard to speak of the danger on Loyal street at night where a number of boys were sleighing of serious accident. And the street is well-lighted the sleighing by the snow does not make it possible to see the children.

Boy Is Killed As Sleds Crash

momentum at the dip in the street, where the glare of an electric light made it difficult to see the approach from either direction. Evidently the two boys saw each other too late to avoid the collision.

Both boys were riding "flexible" sleds, heavy and strong, built and designed to be easy to guide. The sled ridden by young Brown to his death, was completely wrecked by the collision, showing the force with which the two coasters came together. The sled of the other boy was not so badly damaged. A part of the sled also struck the boy in the jaw. This blow partly crushed and severed the youth's tongue.

Immediately after the accident Brown rolled off his sled and lay still, while Allen got to his feet and staggered about in a slightly dazed condition. His face was bruised and bleeding.

Cycle With One Wheel

(Special to The Bee)

MARION, Ia., Feb. 8.—A one-wheeled racing vehicle that will beat every speed record yet accomplished.

A vehicle that can't turn turtle—that becomes steadier the faster you drive it.

Trains that will run at a dizzy speed overhead using single cables instead of steel rails for tracks.

Professor E. J. Christie thinks he will have made all those things possible when he has completed his "gyroscopic unicycle."

Already Christie has made small models that run at a tremendous speed and can't be overturned. Now he's concentrating on a large model in which a man can ride.

14-Foot Wheel.

The unicycle is a queer looking device. The main wheel—the one wheel on which the car runs—is 14 feet in diameter and looks like a giant bicycle wheel. Its axle is 12 feet long.

On this axle are mounted two gyroscopic wheels which are propelled independently of the speed of the axle. The gyroscopic force of these two wheels in motion holds the unicycle upright—in fact, they render upsetting the machine impossible.

A large airplane motor, suspended from the axle, furnishes the power. The driver sits in a seat inside the big wheel and above the axle.

The unicycle has unlimited speed possibilities, Christie says. It's the ideal racing car, he believes.

And the inventor also claims great commercial possibilities for his device. The fact that it can be operated on an elevated rail or cable for fast mail service opens only one of its many commercial fields, Christie says.

Wild Freight Car in Craghead St.

A serious accident was fortunately averted yesterday when a Southern Railway freight car, loaded with lumber, slipped upon the barrier in the yards between the passenger station and freight depot with such force as to crash through a lateral iron fence along the pavement edge and into and across Craghead street.

The car, about the third or fourth from the shifting engine moving them, rolled with great momentum, snapping off a trolley pole just outside the curb and the danger of the street car trolley wire in mid-street. In its wild and unchecked flight the car became uncoupled from the one in front of it, but the coupling held strong enough to retard the movement of the wild car sufficiently to prevent its crashing into and through the brick wall of the Danville and Western railway's brick depot building on the south side of the street.

Fortunately, a passing street car, crowded with motor-bus or a big motor-car did not happen to be in the path of the unexpected runaway of the freight car, but a wagon driven by Bud Harrington and belonging to the Virginia Hardware was not so fortunate. It was just clearing the route of the wild car when the trolley wire collapsed and a piece of flying debris struck him on the right cheek just below the eye, inflicting a painful contusion and knocking him down while the huge freight car crashed into and through the rear of his car.

The shoulder of his coat. He is said to have sustained a severe shock also. Harrington was hauling a trunk to the railway station, and the dangerous situation developed so suddenly and quickly that he had no time to foresee or avoid the accidental contact and injuries. The injured man was superficially examined by Dr. E. H. Miller, surgeon for the railway company and at his suggestion was removed to the hospital for more complete examination and such treatment as might be necessary. A. D. Starling, Harrington's employer, was also soon on the spot and did whatever seemed necessary.

The prostration of the trolley wire lifted up traffic on the line from the junction point a block away to the terminus of the line, and it required two hours to remove the freight car which stopped astride the tracks, and to make the wire repairs and connection. Assistant Superintendent Standfield of the Danville Traction and Power Company, was on the scene quickly and superintended the repair work. The accident occurred about 5 p. m., and through traffic to the subway terminus was resumed about 7 p. m.

The accident appears to have been due to a wrong signal or a misapprehension of the flagman's signal by the engineer operating the shifting engine. In some way the freight car did not abate the speed and force with which the cars were being backed into the "blind" switch, or if he tried to do so the mechanism of the locomotive failed.

The rear truck of another car was backed over the end of the switch terminus and one truck derailed, which, burying itself in the depression in the soft earth brought down the other cars a sudden and violent stop, and caused the rear car to break its couple and skid half across the street.

PARIS NOW SPEAKS IN MANY TONGUES

PARIS, Feb. 7.—Paris is gradually becoming the most cosmopolitan city in the world.

There are cafes and restaurants where it is even embarrassing to order in French. In a well-known bar of the Faubourg Mont-Marne a dialect of the Orient is the official language.

Just across the street from the little restaurant, which calls itself "The Algeria," so you will find the rendezvous of Israelites for Constantinople. In another one of the knowledge of Italians is necessary, and in many others Spanish is spoken fluently.

In the bar of the Chaussee d'Antin the garçon scarcely understands French, but he will speak to you in perfect "Anglo-American."

Visit the little eating-house near the Madeleine and you will be obliged to speak Russian. If you wish to eat chop suey in the tavern near the Sorbonne prepare yourself to speak in Chinese.

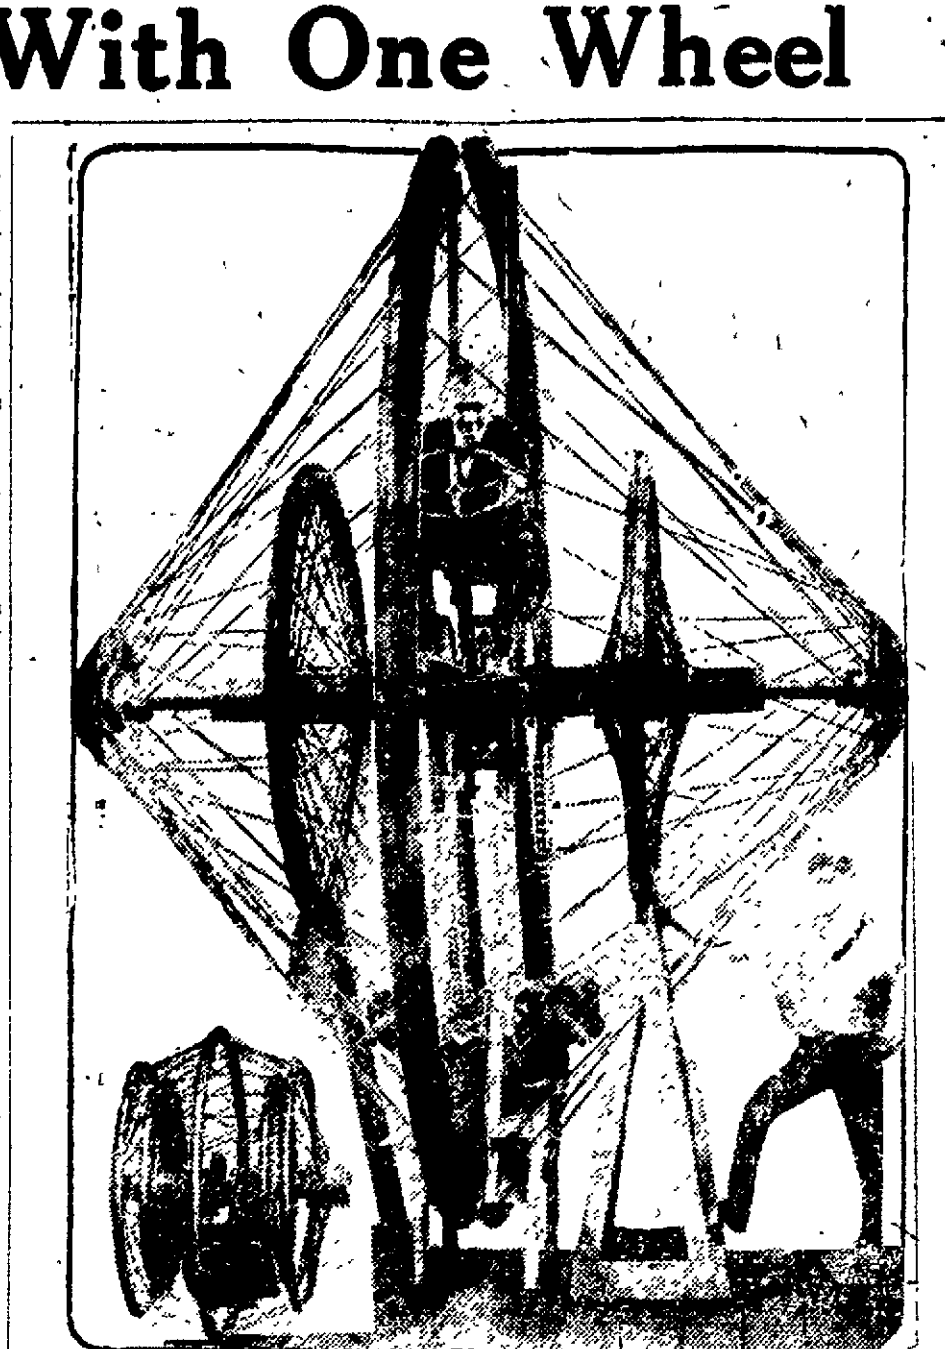

There is a restaurant for each and every nationality. One need never feel lonely at mealtime in the French capital. There is no excuse for not chatting in your native tongue.

The actual number of foreigners in Paris has been officially calculated since 1917, when the figure given out was 234,434. Since that date the number has certainly been sensibly increased.

It was stated last night at Edmunds hospital that Tom Preston and Will Knight, injured Tuesday night by the falling of the awning in front of the Farmers Warehouse on Union street were getting along as well as could be expected and that the recovery of both was confidently expected. X-ray pictures did not disclose any further injuries than had been diagnosed. Preston suffered a fracture of the right leg, while Wright sustained a broken jawbone.

INDIGESTION RELIEVED WITH NEW CORDIAL

Indigestion and its attendant ills such as dyspepsia, heart-burn, sour stomach, griping pains, dizziness, diarrhoea, colic, cholera morbos, chronic constipation, gas, etc., and even sick nervous headaches are directly traceable to disorders in the digestive organs and can now be quickly relieved with new cordial called Anti-Perment, originated by a druggist and recommended by physicians.

The food sour before it is fully digested, thus putting into solution toxic poisons that are absorbed into the system, irritating the intestines and setting up inflammation. To avoid this, you simply have to prevent fermentation by using Anti-Perment.

Anti-Perment neutralizes the acid condition of the stomach, cleanses and sweetens the bowels, soothes and heals the inflamed intestines and increases the flow of gastric juices, giving quick and certain relief. Get a bottle of Anti-Perment from your druggist with a guarantee of satisfactory results or money returned. It will improve your appetite, give you restful sleep and make you feel better than you ever felt in your life.—adv.

Danville Fails To Raise Quota

That Danville has fallen down deplorably in raising its quota of the Woodrow Wilson Foundation fund is information contained in a letter received in Danville yesterday from Senator Carter Glass. The letter is self-explanatory and is as follows:

"I have a letter from Mr. Branch Johnson of Richmond, Secretary of The Woodrow Wilson Foundation fund in Virginia, saying that Virginia has raised just a little more than one-half of her quota as a tribute to this eminent son of the State. He points out several cities which have contributed practically nothing to the fund, among them being Danville. He requests me to write a personal letter to these various cities in an effort to bring Virginia's quota up, at least in some measure, and I am writing to ask if you will not assist yourself to some extent and see if Danville will make a moderate contribution to the fund?"

"Hoping that you are well and with cordial regards,"

"Sincerely yours,"

YOUTH DIES OF HURTS SUSTAINED IN RECENT FALL

James McKinley Green, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Green, Blisshop avenue, Schoolfield, died at Edmunds hospital yesterday morning at 2:50 o'clock from injuries he sustained in a fall about two weeks ago. Death was due to a broken blood vessel as result of a blow on the head, when the youth fell. Young Green had been in the hospital but two days, after his condition had become such that his removal there was regarded as necessary.

The body has been sent to Roney, N. C., where the funeral and burial will take place this afternoon, services to be held at Pleasant Grove church.

YARD MASTER IS OUT WITH FACTS CONCERNING CASE

Declares Tanlac Ended 5 Years of Stomach Trouble—Weight More Than Ever Now.

"When my health and strength were as such a low ebb I could hardly get about. Tanlac built me up to where I weigh more than I ever did in my life and feel stronger and better than in years," declared A. T. Frazier, 1025 Loudon ave., Danville, Va., well known yardmaster for the N. & W. Railroad, recently.

"For five years, I had stomach trouble so bad I couldn't eat anything without suffering. I was as restless and nervous as a caged animal, and many many nights I couldn't sleep. I suffered so badly with my stomach. I was often unable to work and then again I just dragged myself down to the office, worn-out from suffering and loss of sleep, and fearing each day that I would have to give up entirely."

"But thanks to Tanlac, my stomach is now in 'Apple-pie' order. I am eating heartily, and am on the job every minute, feeling fine. Tanlac hasn't an equal."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Over 35 million bottles sold.—adv.

"Snow" Warrants Are Held Up

The police yesterday made another raid on those held to be delinquent in removing the snow from the sidewalks in front of their premises. More than forty summonses were issued and a long list was filed at police headquarters this morning. Some called to settle their score with the mayor but Capt. Wooding took a broad view of the threatening aspect of the weather, and again today he decided to give those who have not already removed their snow, until tomorrow morning. The mayor took into consideration the fact that the fall was a sleety mixture which froze to the earth's surface and made removal difficult. A number of Main street residents appeared on the lists this morning. One of the summonses was against City Attorney A. M. Allen on the score that he failed to have removed snow from the sidewalk in front of a lot he owns on Virginia avenue. The police hold that it is required under the ordinance of the property owner to clear the snow from vacant lots just as it is from sidewalks in front of residences.

Good Morning Judge!

The case against Tony McCain, colored charged with breaking into the home of a white man, revealed a peculiar but interesting story in the police court this morning. The testimony revealed that McCain, an elderly negro, had sought to take charge of McCain, so the latter stated. McCain was held for the grand jury on a charge of housebreaking and robbery. He is alleged to have taken his own clothes but on the other hand McCain claims he was holding them for board and lodging for which the boy owed him.

The youth in custody presented an interesting story of how McCain had sought to adopt him as a son temporarily at least, and exercise authority over him. McCain also charged McCain with threatening his life, even going so far as to take out several insurance policies on his life. He claimed his step mother and father plotted to send him off. He says the next thing he knew McCain had him in a bad light. The first ill-feeling between the two men arose here and continued to grow worse from time to time. McCain finally took all of McCain's clothes and he was forced to remain indoors. One day he managed to make his escape. Time and time again he sought to get his clothes but McCain would not let him have them. Finally he decided to break in when the man was not at home and take them. He told of kicking the door open with his foot and entering the house. McCain then scored out a warrant.

Ruffin claims that McCain owes him for three months' board and gives this as his reason for holding the boy's clothing.

McCain seemed to be in earnest about his accusations against McCain. He told of being led through the streets to the man's home after he had been turned over to him. He related several times the alleged threats against his life, and finally charged that McCain took the insurance out on his life. McCain claims he was merely taking care of the boy during his parents' illness.

Three men arrested early this morning with five bottles of whiskey in their possession and a pistol were dealt with this morning. W. B. Walker was held for the grand jury. Besides having a bottle of whiskey he was found with a revolver containing three bullets. G. W. Smith and Tom Moorefield were fined ten dollars and costs for having some of the liquor in their possession. All are said to have come here from Sycamore, Va.

Phil Brown, colored, and Arthur Smith, colored, were ordered to stay out of a poolroom on Union street as result of complaint by the proprietor who charged them with creating a disturbance there last night.

Paul Brown, colored, drew a fine of ten dollars and costs for failing to provide proper brakes on his machine, which was driven by James Peatross. Police officers testified of having hailed the machine to stop but that instead of coming to a full stop, Brown slowing along the street. When asked why he didn't stop, Peatross is alleged to have told the police that his brakes would not hold.

The cases of John W. and David Taylor, for storebreaking, were sent on to the grand jury. David admitted going in Koplen's store on Union street with his brother several nights ago. No testimony further than this was taken.

I. S. Street, who submitted to a charge of gambling yesterday and paid a fine of eleven dollars and costs, appeared in court this morning and announced that he wished to note an appeal. He took this action and gave bond for his appearance before the corporation court.

Canadian Wolves Not Men-Killers

TORONTO, Jan. 25.—Wolves are not man-killers. This is the unanimous opinion of trappers contained in a flood of letters to Toronto newspapers, following publication of a report that there was danger to live stock, and possibly humans, along the northern boundary of the United States because of the large number of wolves driven southward toward civilization by a hard winter. The writers confirm reports of the increasing number of wolf packs, but declare there is no confirmation of attacks on trappers and hunters.

W. T. Thompson, dealer in furs at Ignace, replying to an inquiry about a story circulated in December of the killing of two Indians and a white trapper north of that place, writes: "We do not know of this here as it is supposed to have happened about seventy miles north, but personally I do not think there is anything in it. Wolves are very numerous around here, but I have lived in this country for 25 years and have yet to hear of anyone being killed by wolves."

Tom Saville, trapper at Gogama, in the Sudbury district, writes: "I never like to cast gloom on a good story, but that one about the Indians being torn to pieces is going too far. Wolves are scared stiff at the sight of a man." Saville tells about meeting a pack of about twenty, face to face in a blinding snow storm, and adds:

"The hunter, a big grizzled, long-legged old chap, looked me over from a distance of about twenty feet; the pack ranged alongside of him, their tails straight out for just as long as it takes to stiffen the hair. Then they broke, the first dashed out on the ice and flew twenty-one of them."

Joseph Has Hard Road to Travel For Next Year

(By The Associated Press)
DETROIT, Feb. 8.—Joseph Leszynski, 31, will behave for the next year if spankings and the continual presence in his home of a probation officer have the proper effect.

His wife proved to Judge Thomas Carter yesterday that she was capable of spanking him—had been doing it for a long time—and was instructed by the court to administer 25 strokes whenever she believed it necessary. She was given special probation officer for a year to see that her husband came home at a reasonable hour, avoided bad company and conducted himself as a good husband.

"He'll get a spanking tonight if you say so. I'll do it every day," Mrs. Leszynski, flushed with her new authority told the court.

The court made no plea for mercy.

House Decides "Guts" Is Quite Proper Word

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—The House of Representatives yesterday decided by an overwhelming vote that "guts" is perfectly proper word for use in debate.

The formal ruling was prompted by an effort by Representative Addison T. Smith, of Idaho, to have it expunged from the Record when used by Representative William H. Stafford of Wisconsin.

Stafford's remark was made during a speech by Representative Fuller, of Illinois, on tariff violations in the District of Columbia. The Illinois member said speakers should be sent to jail, "as they do in Detroit."

"The case the gentleman alludes to in Detroit," Stafford interposed, "was because Judge Bartlett has the guts to punish. What we need in the District of Columbia are judges with—"

Fuller broke in before Stafford could finish the sentence, and Republican Leader Mondell shouted, "Say it, with guts."

The Idaho representative sprang to his feet and moved that the remarks be expunged from the Record.

On the vote to expunge, a handful of "ayes" were drowned in a thundering chorus of "noes."

Dr. Mastin For Farms, Not Jails

RICHMOND, Feb. 7.—In discussing local prison conditions, Rev. J. T. Mastin, present head of the Methodist Institute and former State commissioner of public welfare, declared the Henrico county jail is commendably maintained from the standpoint of comfort and cleanliness.

However, Dr. Mastin believes that one of the most urgent needs of the prison situation in Virginia is the securing of local farms as a means of giving employment to people held for the various offenses that contribute to jail commitments.

"The curse of the present prison system is idleness and evil associations," Dr. Mastin said. "To hold people in the small space allotted in our county jails and in absolute idleness is a cause rather than a prevention of crime."

Under the present laws in Virginia small discrimination is made in classifying offenders while they are temporarily held. The first offender may be associated with hardened criminals. A complete revision of the prison system is needed to bring Virginia into the ranks of progressive penal methods, Dr. Mastin believes.

Germans Now Fear Seizure Of Property

LONDON, Feb. 8.—A Daily News dispatch from Dusseldorf tonight declared the Germans now fear the next "sanction" to be exacted by the French, will be the seizure of private property. Banks today refused to change travelers' checks on the ground that they might be confiscated.

The railway situation, the dispatch said was growing worse, and practically all work was stopped at Aachen today. At Essen telephone service with other Ruhr towns was cut off. The German resistance in the whole occupied area seems to be suffering.

It was reported tonight that the French ambassador had asked the foreign office what action the British would take if the German railway men in the Cologne area refused to work on coal trains from the Ruhr to France. The ambassador said that the possibility of this being considered by the government, but no action had been taken.

St. Mihiel Lands Remaining Troops

(By The Associated Press)
CHARLESTON, Feb. 8.—The transport St. Mihiel, bringing 281 men of the 8th Infantry home from the Rhine arrived off Sullivan's Isle at 10:15 o'clock this morning. The transport was met as she proceeded to her anchorage off Fort Moultrie by Col. G. S. Ball, commandant of the Fort and members of his staff who extended greetings to the returning men who participated in the welcoming ceremonies at Savannah where some 400 of the transport's passengers were landed.

There was no special celebration today of the return of the last American troops from the Rhine. Red Cross, Salvation Army and Knights of Columbus workers were on hand to extend assistance necessary and to provide facilities for the doughboys to get in touch with the folks at home. There were 13 families, including 21 children of soldiers brought here today.

CASH IN HAND PLEASES SOUTH CAROLINA CO-OPS

(Special From Tobacco Growers News)

FLORENCE, S. C., Feb. 7.—"Cash in hand with more to come beats cash in the bank," say thousands of organized tobacco growers as they and the bankers and merchants of the South Carolina belt prepare for the third big payment of the Tobacco Growers' Association which comes next week.

Thousands are celebrating the birthday of the Association this week by attending the crowded mass meeting at which Governor McLeod, Senator E. D. Stone and other leaders of the Co-operative movement are setting the pace for a hundred per cent. co-operative state. Next week they will carry home the payment of $200,000 when the birthday present by the Tobacco Co-operative reaches the members in the South Carolina belt.

A fourth payment will follow, according to this week's announcement of the Association officials. Meanwhile the farmers who were told last August to light their cigarettes with their participation certificates after seeing these "scraps of paper" bring million after million into the South Carolina belt are holding them in a safe place.

While no one hereabouts has successfully denied that the organized tobacco farmers deserve the credit for leaving the 1921 state average of eleven and a quarter dollars a hundred for behind none of the other farmers who have averaged five cents more on the dollar than their own bankers' valuation will admit that cash last fall and that all gone beats cash in hand with more to come. Many were once outside the Co-ops fold, seem of the same opinion, for new members are joining the Marketing Association every day.

The membership of the Association has steadily increased in the South Carolina belt until today it stands at more than twelve thousand five hundred, according to W. E. Lea, of Florence, field representative of the Association in South Carolina, who is directing the present membership campaign.

Memories of 1921 are by no means forgotten according to farmers of this section who recall abandoning much of their tobacco on the warehouse floors in that season when five million pounds were left behind. Well known tobacco men of the Pee Dee section admit today that this State's average for 1921 would have been close to eight and a half cents a pound had all of the tobacco the farmers made that year and sacrificed, been so reckoned in the count.

Some five million pounds of tobacco which according to conservative estimates was "passed," brought nothing to the growers and was left with the warehousemen following their agreement that any representative of the Association in South Carolina, who is directing the present membership campaign.

This same tobacco after redrying was sold in some cases for as little as twelve cents a pound, according to well known tobacco men of this section, the free gift of the farmers to the auction markets.

No tobacco has been "passed" this year, however, though twenty million pounds have passed from the auction houses to the Co-operative floors and according to the present sign up in the South Carolina belt a very much larger proportion will reach the Association in 1923.

TOBACCO MART IN RICHMOND IS HOLDING UP

RICHMOND, Va., Feb. 7.—Receipts of Tobacco are pretty good on the Richmond market despite the snow, cold and bad roads. Naturally more is coming by freight than came during good weather, but the number of trucks and wagons bringing in the weed is surprising. This is true as to all of the warehouses. The co-operative people report very satisfactory receipts both here and at the other warehouses in this belt.

Sales in the two open warehouses yesterday were very good. There were about 75,000 pounds sold. Generally speaking the quality of the tobacco is better than it has been running. The buyers were out in force and bidding was spirited, especially on the better and medium grades. Most of the tobacco sold was from Louisville and Caroline, though there were shipments from several of the other counties tributary to this market.

James Cecil, of Caroline County had a fine crop. There were eleven piles and his prices were excellent. With 20 cents a pound as his lowest. Other grades sold at 21, 25, 27, 37, 35, 36, 39, 40 and 41. Will Baldwin, another Caroline farmer, also got good prices, running 19 1/2, 20, 22, 30 and 38.

W. F. Carpenter, of Fredericks Hall, had only three piles, but he drew high price. His best offering sold for 43 and the other two brought 19 and 29 cents, respectively. Four especially good crops came to Butler's from the Bells Cross roads section of Louisa. Miss J. R. Buck and R. D. Perkins scored 40 cents as top, while Theodore Buck got 37 for his best, and R.

DARK TOBACCO SELLS WELL AT NEW CANTON

NEW CANTON, Va., Feb. 7.—In spite of weather conditions the New Canton Co-operative Tobacco Warehouse is steadily receiving tobacco and passing out checks to the growers. Several fine lots were graded today. The prices for all-leaf tobacco have averaged not far short of $29 a hundred, with some fine lots bringing as high as $36 to $40. These high prices for the grade of heavy dark tobacco raised throughout this section are almost unprecedented and are generally considered by members of the Co-operative Association to be the direct result of the activities of that organization.

Few of the largest tobacco growers of this section have marketed their crops entirely, and much very fine tobacco remains in the growers' barns. The market here, under association auspices, has proven entirely successful, and the operation has served to consolidate the work of the co-operative association. Perhaps eighty per cent or more of the substantial tobacco growers of this section, including large portions of Buckingham, Buchanan and Cumberland Counties, are now members of the association and new members are L. Richardson, 35. All of these growers made good averages.

Most of the best tobacco sold at Shockoe Warehouse also came from Louisa, although Fluvanna and other counties were well represented. These were among the best sales:

Alvin Ship, Fluvanna, $29, $35 and $36; T. J. Poore, Louisa, $15, $23, and $24; H. J. Houchins, Louisa, $17, $26, $28, $35 and $40; T. H. Nelson, Louisa County, $27, $29, $32, $35 and $38; J. E. Holland, Louisa, $28, $30, $32, $36, $38 and $40; Henry Baggett, Louisa, $27, $30, $32, $34 and $34. The day's average at the two warehouses was about 18 cents per pound.

ONLY EIGHTEEN DAYS LEFT FOR MAKING LAWS

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

(Copyright, 1923, By The Register.)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—President Harding in his address to Congress today placed squarely before that body the responsibility for the success or failure of two major questions in America's economic reconstruction, namely acceptance of the terms agreed upon with the British for the settlement of the war debt and the making of an American merchant marine.

The president declines to believe either of these matters is solely the executive's responsibility and insists that Congress act upon them. Acceptance of the debt settlement is assured, but the ship subsidy program is in legislative peril, as it can easily be filibustered and killed without permitting a vote to be taken. Mr. Harding knows this and feels that Congress and the country as a whole should know the effect of such a step. He begs Congress not to leave the executive with a policy which must be forthcoming to build up the administration ship subsidy plan, let it vote that plan down and suggest another. That's the president's request. He wants a definite pronouncement from Congress which will aid the shipping board in shaping a policy after March 4th, because if ship subsidy falls appropriations must be forthcoming to build new ships to replace those now wearing out, and other expenses must be met in order to keep government operation on an efficient basis.

Only eighteen legislative days are left on the congressional calendar. The time for action on the ship subsidy grows short. Mr. Harding has been told by senators who have made a canvass of the situation that, if the ship subsidy measure comes to a vote, it can be passed. The opponents of the bill know they can talk it to death and kill the bill by preventing a vote. But Mr. Harding wants an alternative policy to guide it in the months of operation that are coming after March 4th and before the next session of Congress could give to the subject any consideration.

BILL TURNED DOWN

(By The Associated Press)

RALEIGH, N. C., Feb. 7.—The House committee on health of the North Carolina Assembly today reported unfavorably a bill to provide representation of the state hospital association on the board of examiners for nurses after a hearing at which nurses contended that it would throw the control of the board into the hands of the doctors. A bill was also introduced in the House and referred to committee, which will provide for acceptance of certain lands in Raleigh for the purpose of establishing state four grounds and for the use of the North Carolina State College of Agriculture.

Some five million pounds of tobacco which according to conservative estimates was "passed," brought nothing to the growers and was left with the warehousemen following their agreement that any representative of the Association in South Carolina, who is directing the present membership campaign.

HOW TO USE ROUGE AND LIPSTICK

IN the improvement of every woman it is essential that she have a good color.

The power of suggestion is a very strong one in the case of coloring. I should like to cite the instance of a woman who has natural color, but having a poor face, puts on a little bit of powder but no rouge, goes out and meets a friend.

The friend, being accustomed to color in her face, exclaims, "My, what is the matter with you?" She is indeed glad to report that nothing really is the matter with her, and passes along thinking it was not necessary for her friend to exclaim of the lack of color in her face.

A few minutes later she meets another friend who, instead of greeting her with a pleasant bidding, says as if shocked, "Why, you do not look well!"

She laughs it off, replying, "Well, I have not been feeling so very well." But the third person who meets her, with a similar greeting will force her to go home and to bed. She will feel badly merely through the power of suggestion, and only for the want of a little coloring in her face. How much better it would be for that woman on her colorless day to have applied a little bit of coloring according to right, but as she always has a natural coloring, she must simulate the real with a very delicate suggestion of rouge, which will make her eyes look brighter and improve her general appearance.

There is an art in applying rouge. First, it should be applied exactly as the color comes in the face. Pinch you face and see where the color comes in the cheeks—close to the nose, high toward the ears and down toward the neck. Rarely do you have coloring on the chin, so I do not advise the use of rouge there.

Study the color of your complexion, even though you have to experiment until you get the right shade, and then apply rouge lightly to simulate the natural always!

Do not apply rouge or a lipstick or flout a powder puff in public. You know men would not insult a woman by performing any part of their toilet in her presence, so be considerate of their feelings and perform our toilet only in privacy.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 7.—Clothing manufacturers report orders for immediate shipment and also large orders for future delivery based on a certainty by retailers of a period of prolonged demand.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 7.—The German General Ludendorff, who, on his way to Vienna, was assaulted by workmen at Klagenfurt and not permitted to deliver an address, discussed the situation in the Ruhr in an interview published by the "Winter Allgemeine Zeitung."

"It is a mistake," he said, "to think that these events in the Ruhr are a purely German affair; the whole of Europe is bound to suffer from their effects. I have no connection with the Berlin government and consequently am not able to judge if the persistent reports of a Russo-German accord are true. I only know that such a combination would be a great misfortune for Europe."

50,000 AUTO OWNERS WITHOUT 1923 LICENSES

(By The Associated Press)
RICHMOND, Va., Feb. 7.—Approximately 50,000 automobile owners in Virginia have not yet applied for 1923 license tags, according to the secretary of the commonwealth. Comparatively few arrests for violation of the license law, however, have been reported the secretary said.

Coal Companies To Be Established With New Ideal

CLEVELAND, O., Feb. 8.—The establishment of coal mining companies

"with a soul" was the announced aim of Warren S. Stone, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and his brotherhood associates when they made a $2,000,000 investment in the Coal River Collieries company last June.

The purchase was made during the coal strike and Mr. Stone announced that there has never been a strike in these mines and there never will be. While the brotherhood, as an organization, has nothing to do with the coal mining property, yet the mines are owned largely by brotherhood members and Mr. Stone is president of the company.

Revolutionizing the coal mining industry through the establishment of a "coal company with a soul" was the aim of the engineers when Mr. Stone and his associates, last June, in the throes of the nation-wide coal strike, made the two million dollar investment in the Coal River Collieries company. "There has never been a strike in these mines and there never will be," he said.

For the Game's Sake

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—Play in the Southern open tournaments this month and next will give us early information as to prospects among the professional golfers. By the time the North and South championships are decided at Pinehurst, March 27-30, we will know definitely whether some star, swinging across the golf firmament is suddenly and brilliantly as old Gene Sarazen, is likely to cause the world's title to change hands. Walter Hagen, Hutchison and Barnes to look to their laurels when the supreme test comes at Inwood next July.

Jess Willard To Fight Floyd Johnson Soon

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—Jess Willard, former heavyweight champion, and Floyd Johnson of Iowa, aspirant to the world's title, were matched today to meet May 13 in a 15 round bout to a decision at the New York Yankee Stadium for the benefit of the milk fund of the Mayor's Committee of Women. The bouts were guaranteed $25,000 each.

Although he has announced that he was opposed to holding heavy-weight bouts because of the large amounts of money involved, Chairman Muldoon of the state boxing commission has approved the Willard-Johnson bout because the net proceeds will go to charity.

The bout may lead the winner to an encounter with Jack Dempsey, the title holder, as both men have been in the forefront of recent discussions of the next battle for the world's championship. It was pointed out tonight that sentiment toward a title bout may change sufficiently after the Willard-Johnson battle, is held to ward Chairman Muldoon changing his mind.

Willard, who has been training daily in the gymnasium at Madison Square Garden, will look for a permanent camp site in the next few days and probably locate near Saratoga Springs, N. Y. Johnson, who also has been training in the Metropolitan District, likewise will probably move up state. It was originally planned to match Tommy Gibbons of St. Paul with Johnson for the 1933 milk fund but Willard was substituted and Gibbons probably will fight another opponent in the Garden ring March 19.

Both bouts are under the management of Tex Rickard. The Yankee management, it is understood, tendered the stadium without cost to the Women's Committee.

VERDICT FOR DEFENDANT

ASHEVILLE, N. C., Feb. 7.—A superior court jury in Transylvania County, North Carolina, today returned a verdict in favor of the defendant E. H. Jennings, in the case instituted by Occoan and Pickens Counties of South Carolina, seeking to recover damages for the bridges washed away in 1915 as a result of the breaking of the Toxaway dam.

Why Relieve Stomach Distress For A Few Hours?

WHY NOT BANISH IT FOREVER?

Why go on day by day tinkering with your stomach—patching it up, as it were, for a day and doing the same thing tomorrow?

Why not get a sure, safe and sane remedy that will end all stomach distress in a few days and give you a stomach so strong and sturdy that you can eat anything you desire without after discomfort to charity.

Don't let your stomach go from bad to worse—forget the makeshifts that only relieve and start today to get your stomach in fine working order and free from indigestion or constipation by taking Dare's Mentha Pepsin, a delightful

Boyd and other members of the younger set who are believed to be on the verge of greatness.

Considering their respective opportunities it is extraordinary that the line as between the pro and the high class amateur is not more clearly defined. Glance over the list of open tournaments in the South beginning with the Houston open of February 2-3 just at present the tournament has been at Beaumont has been in progress. February 1-11 comes the Shreveport open. New Orleans will have the Krome then on February 15-20. Then comes Mobile February 19-20; Macon, Ga., February 22, February 28, Augusta, Ga., March 5-6, St. Augustine, March 9-10, Island, Fla., March 16-18, Melrose Heights, Fla., Asheville, N. C. March 23-23, March 29-30, Pinehurst.

Following will come an early April tournament in Washington, D. C. and another at White Sulphur Springs, Va.

If the amateur happens to live in the South or on the West coast and is not too busy he need have no knowledge of the lack of opponents for winter play but elsewhere long journeys and the outlay of real money are the obstacles that keep our young men off the links.

HIGH SCHOOL QUINT DEFEATS SCHOOLFIELD "Y"

The Danville "Quint" met the Schoolfield "Y" quint at the latter's floor last night. The game started off with a rush, and was a fight from start to finish. Rough playing throughout the game was marked. Both teams were neck and neck for the first few minutes but by the end of the quarter the High School team had gained a substantial lead over the "Y" which the latter was unable to overcome. From then on the High School held her good lead and the game ended with the score 33 to 16 in Danville's favor. Throughout the game neither team passed well due to the fact that the guarding was very close. For Schoolfield Oliver deserves mention, for Danville no stars could be picked, all the members playing neck and neck. Reaves deserves credit for his refereeing, taking into consideration the roughness of the game. The line-up follows:

Schoolfield	Danville
Murray	Falley
R. F.	Davis
Lemon	L. F.
Oliver	C.
Hopper	Morgan
Sweatt	Campbell
L. G.

Subs for Danville: Franklin for Morgan, Ruffin for Davis. For Schoolfield: Wright for Oliver, Oliver for Sweatt.

Cyclone Peters Meets Stecker Friday Evening

"Cyclone" Peters and Young Stecker are scheduled for the main wrestling bout Friday night at Municipal Hall. The preliminaries will start at 8:15. The Peters-Stecker match should be even better than the match of last Friday evening between Stecker and the Italian. Peters is recognized as a coming wrestler. He has already made a splendid showing in his recent bout with Fritz Hansen. He gave the Swede all that he could do to stave off defeat. Stecker is in the prime of condition and confidently expects to repeat by winning tomorrow evening in straight falls, so the fans can do it out for themselves that a splendid match is in store.

BONEHEAD PLAY THAT WON PRIZE LAST SEASON

Every year in the majors produces one or more bonehead plays that stand out as the classics of their particular line.

To Pitcher Hodge of Chicago and Second Baseman Ward of New York goes the discredit of having in two of the funniest plays of the year in which solid ivory played an important feature.

In a game at Detroit, Hodge was doing the pitching for Chicago and was enjoying a slight lead when he got himself into a jam by a foolish bit of by-play.

Of late years there has been much complaint by the players over rough balls in play. The concrete grandstands are responsible for such a condition, as usually when a ball hits the rough surface it is rendered unfit for play.

The play was given much publicity, yet a few weeks later Ward of New York turned the same trick with a runner on first and the Yankees leading by only one run. A rough ball that didn't suit him was the cause.

The second incident caused President Johnson to issue a bulletin to the managers, telling them it might be advisable to inform their players that the ball was always in play until the umpire ruled otherwise.

Suzanne Is Off Her Game

By WALTER CAMP
(Copyright, 1933, By The Bee)

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—There is a general feeling today and it certainly has some foundation that Mlle. Lenglen, the greatest woman tennis player in the world, is shading off somewhat on her game.

One story is that she has put on weight but this probably could be eventually taken care of, but in some way her dynamic energy which usually starts very early in the match and continues until she goes off the court a victor seemed at Cannes to be intermittent, rather than continuous. She had quite a hard job with Mrs. Satterthwaite for the French girl won in two sets 6-4 and 6-2 but she is not in the habit of letting any opponent get six games in two sets on her.

In spite of all we have said above in this match Mlle. Lenglen showed greater endurance than did Mrs. Satterthwaite but the fact remains that she is a rate no now up to "conquer bitch."

From time to time there is a strong distinction that the effect of one sport upon another. You have plenty of men who indulge in more than one sport and make good and for a long time we have benefited somewhat by the Britishers' method of taking a crack at everything and being what is known as an "all around athlete" rather than specializing too severely in some one branch.

One interesting feature in this connection is the recent statement of Kirkaldy, the famous St. Andrews professional, who maintains that polo is spoiling the golf swing of the Prince of Wales. Little later we will take up this matter in detail showing the latter effects of one sport upon another.

RECRUIT HAS THIRCE BEEN RESUBMITTED

There are diverse views in camps of ball players. One of the latest peculiar twists is found in the record of George Boehler, a pitcher who has just been purchased by the Pittsburgh Pirates from the Tulsa Club of the Western League.

The records can be pulled to prove Boehler is the kind of the minor leagues. He had a remarkable record in 1927.

But turn back to the pages of a year ago. It is discovered that this same Boehler, with the same Tulsa club had the worst record of any pitcher in the minor leagues, winning four games and losing 20.

Boehler is not in the class of young phenoms. He could not develop any fancy twisters that would cause this unexpected upset.

The data on Boehler brings out some information which probably has passed the eagle eyes of the National League fans. He was born Jan. 2, 1894, at Lawrenceburg, Ind., which puts him mighty close to the 30-year mark.

Boehler made his professional debut in 1912 with Springfield in the Ohio State League. He was purchased by the Tigers and spent 1913, 1914, 1915 and part of 1916 with the Tigers. He was released to Louisville in the summer of 1916. In 1917 he was with Denver and with Joplin in 1918, 1919 and 1920.

The St. Louis Browns in bidding for pitching talent brought in Boehler in the spring of 1919, but after a month's trial he was sent to Tulsa.

BAIL BOND OF DAVID LAMAR IS FORFEITED

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—A $250,000 bail bond supplied by David Lamar, 101 Wall Street, was declared forfeited today by Federal Judge Winslow. Lamar is being sought on a bench warrant declaring him to be a fugitive from justice.

The bail was deposited by Lamar for his release pending decision by the Supreme Court on his application for a review of Federal Judge Winslow's recent decision of Lamar's corpus proce.

The application was denied last week, and Lamar was called upon to surrender.

Lamar's present legal troubles represent his efforts to escape a 2 1/2 year imprisonment to which he was sentenced in 1917 on conviction of causing strikes and walkouts in munition plants during the war.

In the Mahoning Valley 22 of 26 furnaces are active. Of the United States Steel plants in the Carnegie Steel is working 100 per cent. The American Sheet and Tin plate 100 per cent. and the American Steel and Wire about 75 per cent.

SPRING STYLE CHANGES

MOSTLY IN DETAIL

(Special to The Bee)

SILHOUETTE lines have shifted slightly—waistlines are more nearly normal—but in general spring styles show few changes.

This means that the changes are in detail—new trimmings, new finishing touches.

Shown here is one spring gown with wide sleeves, wrinking down into a tight, wide cuff. The cape-like blouse is ideal for spring wear without a strap.

The other frock has a new cuff, too, made of full ruffles, covering the hand. The wide-bonneted skirt and robe are other spring features.

Russians Wear Sackcloth Suits in Effort To Keep from Death by Cold; American Aid Their Only Hope

Sackcloth has become a fashion-able attire this winter in Russia, where there is such a lack of cloth and warm materials that thousands of children are unable to go out of doors into the bitter northern cold because they have nothing to wear. Clothes are so scarce that men and women who have always been well dressed appear on the streets of Petrograd or Moscow in clumsy, ill fitting sack cloth coats made of material that has been wrapped around supplies from America. And across their chests or down their arms are printed the original slogans of the milling firms—"Made in Minneapolis" or "Handle with Care." "Eventually Why Not Now" or "Net Weight 5.00 Lbs."

Cloth is so scarce that with the tremendous fluctuation in currency very few can afford to buy it. An overcoat costs more than the salary of an average working man for two years. Everything the peasants have has already been sold for food during the famine year. Old leather, mattresses, burp, blankets, everything available has been made into clothing.

More than 2 million children scattered all over Russia and several million adults have no clothing at all except these sack cloth garments that are totally unfit to protect them from the cold. Without clothing they are suffering also from hunger as the only food many of them have is served once a day at the American Relief Administration food kitchens. To relieve this situation and save these people from exposure and bitter suffering the American Relief Administration has inaugurated the clothing package remittance system similar to the Hoover food package of Petrograd and the American Red Cross of New York City, or to a local bank, will equip and deliver a package to any sufferer in Russia. Each package contains nearly 5 yards of dark warm wool cloth, enough to make one suit of clothing for an adult or two garments for a child; 4 yards of lining; 16 yards of muslin, sufficient for four suits of underwear; 8 yards of flannel for two women's shirt waists and buttons and thread to make up these garments. Relatives or friends in America may purchase these packages for delivery to persons in Russia and receive assurance through the A. R. A. of their delivery. By a special arrangement with the Soviet Government, the packages will be delivered free of duty and at the greatest possible speed.

NUMBER OF CLEARANCE SALES IN PROGRESS

BY FRANK D. MUELAN
PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 7.—A number of clearance sales by local retail stores, which were postponed from January are now in progress and are producing excellent volume of sale. Some of the smaller shops handling men's and women's apparel have sold their entire stocks to department stores and retired from business. Some of the sales were due to the fact that the building occupied had to be had and torn down to make way for new structures.

COLD WEATHER STIMULATES LAGGING RETAIL TRADE

BY C. G. MARSHALL
CHICAGO, Feb. 7.—Another cold snap today following on the heels of zero weather last week has stimulated the lagging retail coal business in this section although purchasing was in small amounts. In spite of the increased demand leading dealers announced a cut of 25 cents a ton on some grades. Lake Michigan Steamship lines which have been maintaining winter schedules are still maintaining regular sailings between Chicago and points in Michigan and Wisconsin and report unusual volume of business. Ten feet of solid concrete in their bows enables the vessels to break through the ice which is not so heavy as usual. Demand for steel still is much greater than production in the west.

Kidnapped Woman Prisoner for Week

Rescued by Philadelphia Police After Note Thrown From Window Reaches Them—Negro Jailer Captured

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 7.—Mrs. Katherine Kent's large blue eyes flashed today as she told Judge Gorman, in Municipal Court, how she had been imprisoned a week in a dingy Poplar street bedroom with a negro man as her jailer. Mrs. Kent said she had been drugged and kidnapped by a white man. The giant negro who stood guard over her and brought her food daily, did not try to molest her, except to prevent her escape, she said.

Mrs. Kent's predicament became known to the police this morning when a newsboy dashed into a police station.

"I found this note on the payment," the boy shouted.

Detectives deciphered the scrawl with difficulty.

Got Note To Police.

"I'm a prisoner on the third floor of 913 Poplar street," said Mrs. Kent.

The detectives hurried to the address. Rushing up stairs they burst through the door and found Mrs. Kent, they told the court, writing in agony under the bed. Her long burn tresses had been tied to the bed post.

The detectives released her hair and lifted her to her feet. Mrs. Kent was almost on the verge of fainting.

"Stock Rights" Are Put Out to Fleece Public

Subscription Scheme Used to Sting Stockholders of Legitimate Corporations.—Suckers Are Pushed.

BY EDWARD A. SCHWAB

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—One of the recently conceived get-rich-quick schemes which has been immensely successful is based on the "subscription rights" lure.

Suckers in this scheme have been recruited from stockholders in well-known, legitimate companies. Among those recently victimized are stockholders in some of America's largest companies.

The "rights" ruse is new and it has a strong sales appeal because dividend-paying corporations with strong financial records sometimes allot valuable rights to their stockholders.

Fake promoters of "subscription rights" start by organizing a promotion company under a name that looks like and sounds like the name of a well-known established corporation. This is to create confusion in the mind of the careless reader of letters and prospectuses.

List of Stockholders.

By some devious means a list of the corporation's stockholders is obtained. They are canvassed with a letter announcing that they have the right to subscribe to a certain allotment of stock before a given date.

"Rights" certificates are sent, urging the stockholder to "return it promptly, properly endorsed, with remittance attached covering the number of shares subscribed to."

This is a false idea of the value of the "rights" and the stockholder will lose a golden opportunity if he doesn't buy immediately.

The sucker is confused by this hurry-up canvass. He buys under the false belief that, as a stockholder in an established corporation, he has an opportunity not open to the general public to buy additional stock in his own company, or shares probably just as valuable, in what he thinks is a legitimate subsidiary.

Fake "subscription rights" stock usually is sold at $1 a share, with the promise that it will soon be on the curb market at $10—which never happens.

UPBRAIDS COUNTRY FOR APATHY TOWARD LEAGUE

(By The Associated Press)

TOKIO, Feb. 7.—Viscount Ishih, Ambassador to France, who is home on furlough, has been taking his own government, the press and the people to task for their lack of interest in the League of Nations. He complains that the foreign office ignored his request when attending the sessions of the council, for information as to press and public opinion of the league, giving the Council "an unpleasant impression of lack of interest in the council in this country."

He added that the European nations, which at first attached little interest to the council because of its weakness, had awakened to its usefulness after the settlement of the Upper Silesian question. "I do not hesitate to say," he concluded, "that the present condition of the council is much more hopeful than is generally believed in Japan."

PROHIBITION UNIT ANGERED BY ALLEGED SYSTEM OF SPIES

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—A system of alleged inter-departmental spying in the Internal Revenue bureau has aroused the ire of the prohibition unit and added to the strain of the relations between David Blair, internal revenue commissioner, and Roy A. Haynes, prohibition commissioner.

Mr. Blair is the superior of Mr. Haynes.

It is complained in prohibition enforcement circles that intelligence agents of the internal revenue bureau are spending part of their "time shadowing" the enforcement agents of the prohibition enforcement bureau.

It is further complained that in absence of Mr. Haynes on inspection trips and without consultation with him some of the agents in whom he has most confidence are subjected to suspension at the order of the internal revenue bureau.

Mr. Haynes, it is stated, has at times learned first through the newspapers that this or that prohibition agent—perhaps one he has considered among his best—has been suspended without the prohibition commissioner's opinion being asked. He had this experience on a recent western trip of prohibition enforcement inspection.

Added to this, it is declared, the prohibition enforcement bureau has had to rest under charges by certain newspapers that it has adopted a double-spy system of having intelligence agents trail the enforcement agents. This charge does not fairly lie against the prohibition unit. It is asserted by some of the enforcement people, but arises from the fact that, much to the perturbation of the prohibition commissioner's division, the intelligence agents of the internal revenue bureau proper are being used to keep watch on some of the dry agents.

That the internal revenue bureau has a force of special intelligence agents, part of whose work is to engage upon cases of violation of law by persons within the department, has been made clear by the hearings on treasury appropriation estimates.

In the hearings preliminary to appropriations for the current fiscal year the House Appropriations subcommittee was told by the representatives of the internal revenue commissioner.

The number of special intelligence agents is 41 and the per annum rate of compensation is $113,350. These employees work under the direction of the commissioner and are employed on fraud matters, including any employees of the service who violate the law in one way or another.

They are also extensively engaged in making investigations with respect to the enforcement of the national prohibition act and in connection with frauds on the income tax. Their work has been responsible for the collection of millions of dollars of income taxes.

The complaint from within the prohibition enforcement force is that this intelligence system has been directed against some of the prohibition agents who are trustworthy and who have had to rest under charges by certain newspapers that it has adopted a double-spy system of having intelligence agents trail the enforcement agents. This charge does not fairly lie against the prohibition unit. It is asserted by some of the enforcement people, but arises from the fact that, much to the perturbation of the prohibition commissioner's division, the

WOMAN RULES ISLAND IN SEA

(By The Associated Press)

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 7.—News of the discovery of an English Survey ship of a lost island in the South Pacific whose several hundred natives are ruled by a white woman, was brought here last night by Miss Ella Brown, buyer for an Australian firm, who arrived on the liner Sonoma.

A Mrs. Sealie, widow of an Australian, said Miss Brown, went to the island, which is called Baroo, years ago, in the hope that missionary work would serve to rescue the natives from the use of her husband and now she is recognized as the high priestess and supreme ruler of the island.

The only other white inhabitants of the island, according to Miss Brown, who is en route to New York, London and Paris, are H. Randolph, an English author and his wife and an Irish servant woman.

Cocoon Oil Makes A Splendid Shampoo

If you want to keep your child's hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.

Many soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much free alkali. This irritates the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Mulsified cocoon oil shampoo (which is pure and entirely greaseless) is much better than anything else you can use for shampooing, as this cannot possibly injure the hair.

Simply put two or three teaspoonsful of Mulsified in a cup or glass with a little warm water, then moisten the hair with water and rub the Mulsified in. It will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excess oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Mulsified cocoon oil shampoo at any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces will last everyone in the family for months. Be sure your druggist gives you Mulsified.
